The 2017

Alianza-Mayer Scholarship

The Alianza-Mayer Scholarship is awarded to a doctoral student in early June of odd-numbered years for study at the Denver Art Museum. It consists of travel expenses, lodging and a $1000 stipend with two weeks of access to the Museum's New World collection. This year we are requesting proposals from candidates who will focus on illuminated prints from the Museum's Spanish Colonial collection. Interested candidates should send the following application materials:

*Name, phone number, mailing and email address.

*A cover letter explaining how access to the collection will further progress toward their degree

*Two faculty letters of reference.

Send all materials by March 1, 2017 to:
